"The Styles Stay to the End"

A Sincerity Overcoat Fits as well the day you discard it as it did the day you first put it on. That is what the Sincerity Clothes Label Means to You.

It is the maker's sign-responsibility. Sincerity clothes are made of seasoned cloth—they can't warp or shrink or stretch out of shape, the "shrink" is taken out before they are made up.

After the mill has stamped the fabrics "fully shrunk," they are London shrunk at the maker's shop—shrunk until there is a loss of 15 per cent in every yard. The manufacturer says it's worth while to take the loss and make the customer. YOU can afford to wear Sincerity Clothes. You can't afford not to. $10 to $35

Buy Pure-Bred Stock

F. Wuerch and O. J. Len of Alford and H. J. Bassemer of Vesper went to Fond du Lac last Thursday to attend the breeders' consignment sale of Holstein cattle which was held at that place. The sale commenced at twelve a. m. and by 4:30 p. m. about 120 head had been auctioned off which shows that the bidding was rapid and spirited.

O. J. Len secured the prize cow of the sale in Wase Kormylke Burke, a large beautiful four year old, who has a record of 12,346.5 pounds of milk and 608.3 pounds of butter as a two year old, and a seven day record of 17.08 pounds of butter, seventy-three days after calving. Mr. Len also secured the grand old cow Netherlands. Mons who had two daughters at the sale who have seven day butter records of 22.95 pounds and 23.01 pounds. These two daughters sold for $250 and $230 respectively.

Mr. Wuerch got the cow Lily DeKol B. Pauline who has a seven day record of sixteen pounds of butter and Gertrude Johanna DeKol, a fine young cow and a great producer though not as yet officially tested. Mr. Bassemer secured the fine, young four year old, Woodland Lady Burke, who has a seven day record at two years, ten months of 16.64 pounds of butter with an average test of four per cent.

Mr. Len now has a herd of seventeen pure bred and Messrs. Bassemer and Wuerch each have two, and with such foundation stock we may soon look for some great records right at home. These three men have already made a move in the right direction and we hope to soon see many more follow in their footsteps for there are many advantages to be obtained where a whole community breed one kind of stock. Buyers always prefer to go where they can get a carload or more of what they want. At present the demand is much greater than the supply and keeps constantly increasing which is shown by the price gradually growing higher.

School Board Convention

The annual school board convention was held at the county training school on Tuesday and about one hundred and fifty were in attendance at the two sessions. Among the talks was one by Prof. Sims of the Stevens Point Normal, who gave some interesting and instructive facts for the consideration of those present. Those from the country who attend these sessions seem to be of the opinion that they are very helpful to those interested in district schools.

Want Bids for Carrying Mail

Postmaster McDonald has been instructed to call for bids for carrying the mail between the local postoffice and the trains. The job is let to the lowest reputable bidder, and is not let for any stated time. Three railroads have to be served here, the C. & N. W., G. B. & W. and the C. M. & St. P., there being no mail carried at the present time over the Soo line. However, these three roads keep the carrier going from about five in the morning until ten at night. The proposals are sealed and are opened in Washington. Following are some of the regulations that govern the matter of carrying the mail:

1. Mail messengers must be over sixteen years of age and suitable to be entrusted with the care and custody of the mails.

2. No bid for carrying the mail on a mail messenger route will be considered unless the bidder resides on or contiguous to the route on which the service is to be performed, or shall file with his bid an agreement that, in the event of the service being awarded to him, he will reside on or contiguous to said route, and will give his personal attention to the performance of the service.

3. The mail messenger is permitted to employ, at his own expense, assistant mail messengers at any time they may be needed. Said assistants shall conform in all respects to the requirements applying to the mail messenger himself.

4. Before entering upon his duties the mail messenger and his assistants must take the oath given in Section 207. The postmaster will at once forward the certificate of the oath to the Second Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Inspection).

5. No person can be paid by the Post office Department for mail messenger service unless the employment of such service has been previously authorized.

6. No postmaster, assistant postmaster, clerk in a post office, or any member of the immediate family of a postmaster or assistant postmaster, will be paid by the Department for carrying the mail. See Section 1041.

7. A mail messenger may resign at any time by giving the Second Assistant Postmaster General written notice thirty days before the time he intends to cease service.

8. A mail messenger can not assign or sublet the service.

Wm. Bulgerin, one of the old residents, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Dickman, on the west side on Sunday morning at nine o'clock, after an illness of one year, during which time he has been a great sufferer, and during the past six weeks he was confined to his bed continuously. Wm. Bulgerin was born in Germany and came to this country when a young man. He has been a resident of Grand Rapids for over forty years, and in early days followed the vocation of wagon maker and carpenter, at which he was very efficient and accumulated some property, and for some years had been living a retired life, making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Dickman. His wife died some thirty years ago, and but two children survive him, Mrs. Wm. Engel and Mrs. Albert Dickman, both of this city.

The following relatives from out of town were here to attend the funeral: Albert and John Gleason and Mrs. Fred Kruger of New Lisbon; Aug. Gleason and wife and Mrs. Chas. Bulgerin of New Rome and Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Bulgerin of Milladore.

Locals Beat Waupaca

The high school football team from this city went to Waupaca on Friday and played a game with the high school boys of that city and the game resulted in a decided victory for the locals by a score of 24 to 0. The boys report that the Waupaca team started out strong but that they lasted only a short time and that after that there was nothing to it. The locals made advances in every way and it was soon apparent that they were sure winners.

The locals are putting up a pretty strong game this season and their career will be watched with interest by enthusiasts in this city.

Broke an Arm

Ed Nelson, who is employed by the Lester Cranberry company, broke one of his arms last Thursday while starting a gasoline engine that is used to operate some of the machinery on the marsh. The accident was caused by his coat sleeve catching onto the shaft of the engine, twisting the arm so that both bones were broken. Dr. Rockwell of this city reduced the fracture and Mr. Nelson has since been getting along all right.

Death of A. L. Gross

Albert L. Gross, one of the old residents of this city and this part of the state, died at his home on Third street after an illness extending over the past three weeks. Mr. Gross had been ailing with heart trouble for some time past but his condition did not become serious until a few days before his death, when he apparently gave up the struggle.

Mr. Gross was 75 years of age, having been born in Grupa, Germany, on the 5th day of June, 1830. He came to this section of the country in the early fifties, and has since been a maker by trade and for a number of years operated a baker shop and store in this city. He was also engaged in business in Needah for a number of years and also was engaged in the mercantile business at Arkdale, in Adams county. For a number of years he also operated the New Lisbon during the days when all supplies were brought to this city by team and the half way stop was made at his place.

He was married in 1858 to Miss Louisa Polansky, who is still living at the home in this city. He is also survived by two sons, Wm. Gross of this city and Fred Gross of Sparta, and one daughter, Mrs. George W. Davis of this city.

Mr. Gross retired from active business several years ago, since which time he has been making his home on Third street.

Miss Fern Chandos and Theodore Hilderman were married on Sunday evening at the west side Lutheran parsonage. Rev. Wm. Nommensen performed the ceremony. They were accompanied by Selma Garthman and Leonard Hilderman as bridesmaid and best man. Only the immediate relatives were present.

After the ceremony the newly married pair drove to Port Edwards where they took the St. Paul train and will continue on their way west until they reach Miles City, Montana, where Mr. Hilderman expects to be stationed, he being an operator for the St. Paul railway company.

Both of these young people are most favorably known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Chandos, and a most estimable young lady, while the groom has been employed here for some time past as operator for the St. Paul company. The Tribune unites with their many friends in extending congratulations.

May Organize a Ladies Band

Prof. Frank Bliss is considering the proposition of organizing a ladies band during the coming winter provided there are enough who take an interest in the matter to make a success of it. Several have spoken to him about the matter and expressed the wish that he would do something of the kind, and the only thing now is whether there are enough to make a success of it.

During an interview with Mr. Bliss recently he stated that if he undertook the matter he would want at least forty members in order to have a proper instrumentation. The cost, if the band is organized, will be very small, so small that anybody can afford the price.

If those who are interested in the matter will telephone Mr. Bliss he will know what the prospects are for forming the organization and will know whether to go ahead with the work or not.

Improvements at the Commercial Hotel

Landlord Patrick Mulroy of the Commercial is putting in a full plate glass front in his hotel office facing the river, which will make a big improvement in his office. ### Dance at Poseley's

There will be a dance at John Poseley's place at Beloit next Thursday evening. Music by the Bliss orchestra.

A Tag of Honor

Men in these days boast of their independence, and there are those who proudly declare that they will wear the tag of neither sect or party. This is an honorable independence which provided it be not carried to the extreme of individualism which paralyzes social efforts of all kinds. There is one tag, however, which even the most radically independent will be proud to wear and that is the tag of Charity, which the ladies of the Federated Clubs of Grand Rapids will pin on to all who shall contribute to their relief fund next Friday, the great annual Tag Day.

Last winter and spring I had occasion to call on the Committee of the Federation, having the relief work in charge. I know that they are judiciously spending the money entrusted to them by the public, and I know that, in addition to spending the money, they give a great deal of their own time and thought to the work. In a community such as ours there are sure to be families who, on account of sickness or misfortune, need a helping hand, especially during the winter months. Even when selfishness or economic inefficiency appear to be at the bottom of this need, if innocent children are involved, it is a cruel community that lets them suffer. When the ladies meet you next Friday in your shops or stores, on the streets or in the schools, contribute according to your ability, generously and joyously, and let them know that you appreciate their work, for it is your work and mine that they are doing.

We realize that charity does not do away with poverty. Hopefully we look forward to the day when education and better social conditions shall make charity needless; but that day cannot come next winter. What, ever your theories for the future may be, this is a call to meet a present need. Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you. When your children go to school next Friday, if you can afford it, send a little change with them. It will do them good to give. And remember to put a little change—not too small a change, please—in your own pocket, and have a real smile on your face.

CHAPTER XIII.—Continued.

One after another, the boys were welded together, and to end, in a narrow ribbon of steel. The thinnest one, however, was not fastened to the top until it had been used to form a groove in the edge of a rib, selected from among the bones which Miss Leslie had thrown out of the land.

"You will excuse me, please."

"Yes, you can go home," interrupted Winthrop. "I am disappointed this morning, and what is more, I have had enough of your detention."

"You have, have you?" growled Blake, his patience suddenly gone.

"Well, if you tell me, Miss Leslie, it's a fact, and if you don't want to, that settles it. But as for you, you'll go, if I have to kick you every step."

Winthrop turned back, and broke into a childish smile. "Don't do it, Blake. Oh, I say, Miss Leslie, how can you stand by and see him abuse me like this?"

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Powdered charcoal and coarse sand are good for ducks.

Lime is a purifier and makes an ideal wash for the coops, perches and nests.

Ensilage provides a good food to be used as a variety during the winter months.

Keep all of the late plants well cultivated, stirring the soil to the depth of only two or three inches.

The cattle market for this grassy steers has not been satisfactory for sometime and prices have been declining.

Hedgers accustomed to the milking machine from the first do much better than old cows that have been milked by hand.

Some who grow alfalfa for chickens, advise gathering the heads and throwing off the seed and storing it for winter use.

Corn stalks on the ground over which will decay more quickly than where allowed to stand, and flat on the ground they will hold the soil from erosion on sloping or hilly land.

Save the painful process of shearing by preventing the horns from growing upon the calves. This can be done by clipping the hair off the little knobs and applying a preventive.

In large gardens and on fine estates the fashion of the day runs to coloring—planting out broad masses of simple flowers where the carefully studied effect is intended to be in the so-called natural style.

In pruning raspberries first observe how many canes there are in the hill, and cut out all over three or four. The number of canes should be governed by their size and the number and strength of their laterals.

There are few farmers who could not profitably keep a few sheep. Difficulties that stand in the way can be easily overcome, and it is well worth while to make the effort when one considers the benefits from sheep.

On one farm where pure bred poultry is the pride of the poultry-yard and where the heavy laying strain is the prime object, layers should be produced and the flock can still be among the top notchers as pure breeds.

Many varieties, especially of the peach, have been brought from the south and have done well in the peach-growing sections of the north. Among these will readily be recalled Elberta, Thurber, Belle of Georgia and others. But quite as many of them have been disappointing.

Corn is too tempting to feed to the hogs in any great quantity. It causes a large number of ailments, such as liver troubles and digestive derangements, resulting in loss and low yields. Gluten, meat, beef scraps, wheat bran and hulls also should be fed regularly to promote health and egg production.

If at all possible, get the droves of pigs out on a field of clover or cowpeas. The hog by nature is a grazing animal, and it will make the most economical gains when allowed to forage for a part of its living. Hogging off clover and clover also has the advantage of fertilizing the land and spreading it evenly over the surface.

The earlier ground is plowed for fall use, the better, as it allows more time for the soil to settle before seedling time. Soil in which wheat and all other grasses are sown must be worked down very fine and compact in order that a large per cent. of the seeds may germinate and the young plants make early and rapid growth. Extra time and labor spent in this way will be rewarded in next season's crop.

An excellent mixture to keep worms and other parasite affliction from the hogs is as follows: Six bushels of corn cob charcoal, two quarts of alps-laked lime and a bushel of ashes. Thoroughly mix and then take one and one-quarter pounds of copperas, dissolve it in hot water and spray the solution over the place. Repeat the solution over the place mass and again thoroughly mix. Place this solution in a self-feeder where the hogs can reach it at pleasure.

There is no difference in the whipping qualities of gravity and separator cream. When any difference is experienced it is due to other factors and not the method of getting the cream. Cream for whipping purposes should contain at least 20 per cent butter fat. The best results are obtained with cream containing 25 to 40 per cent. butter fat. Pasteurized cream may be whipped as easily as unpasteurized if it is thoroughly cooled and held at 35 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit for at least two hours before whipping. Cream should whip in from 30 to 60 seconds. When a longer time is required there is danger of some of the butter fat separating or churning.

Liberal rations must be fed to the cow that is expected to return a profit, and those rations must be well balanced. The cows must have dry, comfortable and well-ventilated sleeping places and be kept free from excitement caused by exposure and neglect. The practice of allowing dairy cows to run over the whole of the farm and be harassed by dogs and children, and be compelled to eat frosty clover and other forage cannot be made to return a profit, even though they consume waste forage and fodders, when this practice is followed.

From a start 18 years ago in Sweden the co-operative testing of cows has spread through the important districts of that country, Norway and Denmark. In Denmark, alone there are now 480 associations for this purpose, and coincident with the practice of testing cows the profits of the dairymen of that country have increased 75 to 100 per cent. In the European countries the associations are organized by farmers who hire a man to visit their herds one day each month and weigh, sample and test the milk of each cow for butter fat.

The catch crop will prove a land fattener.

Do not ruin your horse by compelling him to pull too hard when young.

Corn grown in grass does down so easily that it does not interfere with the lawn.

Shippers of cattle that show any fitness for a stock market have no cause to complain.

A value in buying down corn at maturity in the fall is the enriching of the soil with the dropping of the animals.

Select medium-sized, tall type tomatoes for seed. No cooked or small-sized fruit should be taken if the best seed is wanted.

Sunflower seed is good poultry food, and a few rows of the plants near the poultry yards are also good for summer shade and protection.

To keep the hay on the farm, call it hay, give him something that he can call his own, and let him have the profits realized from its sale.

Do not feed either the young or old horses stabled for several days in succession, because they need daily exercise for home and mare development.

A Kansas farmer makes a practice of hogging down corn by the use of a portable fence, and last year made his corn thus fed him 41 1-2 cents a bushel.

One man claims that for the cost of hogging a 10-acre field of corn, he could have built a fence around the field where a cattle fence, barbed wire, is already there.

Raw farm land should have a dressing of long manure plowed under in the fall, and a thick dressing of the rotted manure spread broadcast in the spring and well harrowed in.

The custom of hogging down corn in the fall of the year has been practiced for a great many years on American farms, but it is only of recent years that farmers have come to know its definite value.

Some person or persons blew up an outbuilding belonging to the Polish priest at Stevens Point, apparently with the idea of terrifying that gentleman. Later in the evening some rocks were fired thru the windows of his dwelling and some windows of the school were also broken. For some time past the members of the Polish church over there, or some of them, have been resorting to doings of this kind in order to induce their pastor to leave, but up to date he has held the fort.

The new machines consist of a large double partitioned washer and ironer. ## LATEST AUTOMOBILE RULES.

Marshfield News:—An automobile friend of ours sends in the following code of rules recently adopted, it is said, by the Farmers Anti-Auto Protective Association and asks that they be published in the News. No one can refuse one of these gentle good fellows and so we comply with his request.

1st—On discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must take to one side of the road and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery. 2nd—The speed limit on country roads will be secret and the penalty for violation $10 for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it. 3rd—In case an automobile causes a team to run away the penalty will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second and $200 for the third that the team runs in addition to the usual damages. 4th—On approaching a corner where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, foot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halloo, and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes. 5th—Automobiles must be painted sensible and not be startling. They must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn and white in winter. 6th—When running on the country roads at night they must send up a red rocket every mile and wait ten minutes for the team to clear. They must then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting Roman candles. 7th—All members of the society will give up Sunday to chasing automobiles and make it interesting by shooting and shouting and thus discourage country touring on that day. 8th—If a horse will not pass an automobile, notwithstanding the scenic tarpaulin, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass. 9th—In case an automobile approaches a farmer's house when the roads are dusty, it will slow down to one mile an hour, and the chauffeur will lay his dust in front of the house with a hand sprinkler worked over the dashboard.

Old Claim for Damages.

On May 16, 1906, the village of Ashland suffered severe losses from fire. The fire started in a pile of 1,200 cords of dry cordwood belonging to the R. Connor Lumber Co. The wood was piled on the Wisconsin Central's right of way and the fire spread from it to a number of buildings. As a result of the fire the old fire companies paid $80,000 in insurance. Nine mutual insurance companies also carried policies on some of the property that was burned and paid losses on the same to the amount of $10,000. Now these mutual companies have brought suit against the Wisconsin Central to recover the amount each has disbursed. They claim that the fire in the Connor wood pile was started by a spark from one of the company's engines and that but for the company's negligence the fire would not have occurred.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Grand Rapids Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

—DANGER SIGNAL, NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL, NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

Mr. O. A. Neuman, 410 Division St., Stevens Point, Wis., says: "I suffered from a lame and weak back for several years. My kidneys were also weak and the secretions from those organs were very unnatural and irregular in passage. On a friend's advice, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. The results were gratifying and I gladly give this remedy my endorsement." Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Some person or persons blew up an outbuilding belonging to the Polish priest at Stevens Point, apparently with the idea of terrifying that gentleman. Later in the evening some rocks were fired thru the windows of his dwelling and some windows of the school were also broken. Marshfield News:—No morning to Bros., proprietors of the Marshfield Steam Laundry, added two new machines to their already well equipped laundry last week. The new machines consist of a large double partition washer and ironer. They are a nice concern to do business with and the liberal patronage they enjoy is the result of doing things right.

Latest Automobile Rules.

Marshfield News:—An automobile friend of ours sends in the following code of rules recently adopted, it is said, by the Farmers Anti-Auto-People Association and asks that they be published in the News. No one can refuse one of these gaggle-eyed fellows and so we comply with his request.

1st.—On discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must take to one side of the road and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery. 2nd.—The speed limit on country roads will be secret and the penalty for violation $10 for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it. 3rd.—In case an automobile catches a team to run away the penalty will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second and $200 for the third that the team runs in addition to the usual damages. 4th.—On approaching a corner where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halloo, and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes. 5th.—Automobiles must be painted semicircle and not be golden in summer, green in spring, and white in winter. 6th.—When running on the country roads at night they must send up a red rocket every mile and wait ten minutes for the road to clear. They must then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting Roman candles. 7th.—All members of the society will give up Sunday to chasing automobiles and make it interesting by shooting and shouting and thus discourage country touring on that day. 8th.—If a horse will not pass an automobile, notwithstanding the scenic tarpaulin, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass. 9th.—In case an automobile approaches a farmer's house when the roads are dusty, it will slow down to one mile an hour, and in the chaffeur will lay the dust in the front of the house with a hand sprinkler worked over the dashboard.

Old Claim for Damages.

On May 16, 1908, the village of Auburndale suffered severe losses from fire. The fire started in a pile of 1,200 cords of R. Connor Lumber Co. The wood was piled on the Wisconsin Central's right of way and the fire spread from it to a number of buildings. As a result of the fire the old line fire companies paid $60,000 in insurance. Nine mutual insurance companies also carried policies on some of the property that was burned and paid losses on the same to the amount of $10,000. Now these mutual companies have brought suit against the Wisconsin Central to recover the amount each has disbursed. They claim that the fire in the Connor wood pile was started by a spark from one of the company's engines and that but for the company's negligence the fire would not have occurred.

The young couple were unattended and returned to Vesper immediately after the ceremony and commenced housekeeping. The Tribune joins in wishing the young couple all the happiness that can possibly come into their lives.

A grandmother has undertaken to answer the question in the headline in a magazine article. Having had experience, she thinks she knows what she is talking about. It is her opinion that no girl should marry before she is 25 years old. There never has been and never can be any fixed rule for the mating of human beings. Ages ago parents were the sole arbiters of the marital destinies of their daughters. They gave in wedlock when and where and to whom they pleased, and the daughters had nothing to do with it. The matter is one in which there is pretty nearly independence of thought and action on the part of American girls. Parents may try as they will to shape their daughters' love affairs to conform to their own ideas, but in a rare case they succeed, and even then success on the part of the parents is not a guarantee of the girl's happiness. It has been estimated that a woman's chances of marriage begin to diminish at the twenty-fourth year and decline rapidly to the thirtieth year, when they have almost disappeared. The period of greatest expectation is from 19 to 23. It is between these periods that the majority of women must make up their minds, and they do it from the dictates of the heart often rather than from any other consideration.

The frequent assertion that the polls of the United States are wrong and is not conceded by Prof. Milton Whitney, chief of the bureau of soils, United States department of agriculture. He has prepared a bulletin in which estimates of yield since 1897 are carefully compared, and in which he arrives at the following conclusion: "We are producing more crops per acre than formerly. This is undoubtedly due to better and more intelligent cultivation, more and better systems of rotation of crops and in later years to the intelligent use of fertilizers through measures of control in the hands of every individual farmer." Much that has been said on the subject of exhaustion of the soil was alarming and even disheartening. That Prof. Whitney says no reason for a pessimistic view is reassuring.

The bureau of statistics in Washington reports an enormous increase in building operations throughout the country. This is another sure indication of the revival of business activity in every direction. When financial stress is felt the work of building in one of the first to feel the effects. The Washington statement shows that the value of building permits issued in 1908 of the largest cities in the United States for the year ended July 1, 1909, was $29,000,000 in excess of that for the same period in 1906, when building was at its high tide. There have been no noticeable gains in other directions, but in building the movement appears to be a veritable boom, owing to the demand for increased accommodations.

Dr. Stiles, chief government zoologist, has just given advice in a department bulletin for the treatment and eradication of the "hook worm" or "lazy" disease so prevalent among the poor whites of the southern states. The disease produces an anemic condition and an utter disinclination for labor. Judging from the latter symptom, it would seem that the "lazy worm" does not restrict its activities to sections south of Mason and Dixon's line. It is hardly less majestic to rise up and assert that it has been located in the municipal blood, in view of the exasperating delays in various movements planned for Philadelphia.

The autumn of Morocco's picturesque idea of locking the rebellious 51 Rhodet in a steel cage, strapped to the back of a weary camel and marched, circus style, through the streets in a free parade, shows an oriental kind of humor hard for the western mind to appreciate. So in his humorous idea of punishment with boiling pitch in it. Somebody ought to remind him that this is Sultan's bad day.

It requires some figuring to see how a New York woman could live out for domestic service at $18 a month while herself keeping a servant at $22 a month. The answer is that she was fitting jewelry and the like from places where she was employed. After robbing 39 women this kitchen itinerant has gone to a reformatory for three years.

CRANE IS LET OUT

MINISTER TO CHINA INFORMED HIS RESIGNATION WILL BE ACCEPTED.

IS GUILTY OF INDISCRETION

Denies Giving Out Interview Containing State Secrets—Knox Says Good of Service Demanded That Minister's Resignation Be Accepted.

Washington, D. C., Tuesday, Oct. 13.—The resignation of Charles H. Crane, minister to China, was practically accepted as a matter of course today. A demand from Secretary Knox Tuesday, for his resignation, Charles H. Crane of Chicago was practically accepted as a matter of course today.

Then a new chapter in American diplomacy was written. A citizen chosen with special regard for his qualifications for the post was recalled before he had embarked from San Francisco and discharged from his high office because of alleged indiscretions disclosed through the press. Moreover, this minister, breaking through all the old traditions, insisted on defending himself from the aspersions cast upon him by the secretary of state by the issuance of a statement which most people here came upon as certain to be very embarrassing to the administration.

The history of this extraordinary affair, which began about a week ago with the announcement that Minister Crane had been stopped at San Francisco at the moment of embarkation for his post by a demand from Secretary Knox for his resignation, reached its climax in a formal statement announced today that Mr. Crane's resignation had been accepted and the minister designated to replace him in an equally formal statement that while his resignation already had been tendered to the president, he felt himself very ungratefully treated. Moreover, Mr. Crane in his statement reflected very severely upon the officials of the state department, charging that not only had they refused from giving him the instructions usually issued to a minister or ambassador about to leave for his post, but that he had been denied access to them even after he had made repeated appointments with them.

He enters a sweeping denial of the charge that he "gave out" a newspaper story which is said to be the cause of his deposition, and places squarely upon the shoulders of President Taft the responsibility for the various interviews in his last month which have aroused the ire of Secretary Knox, and for final action upon his resignation.

Little doubt was expressed that the resignation of Mr. Crane would be accepted by the president. It was expected without qualification by those in the confidence of the secretary of state that Mr. Crane was perfectly assured of the approval of the president; that he was not the kind of man to take so drastic a step without knowing in advance that he would be supported in it.

The conclusion of the state department officials in that Mr. Crane's connection with it terminated with the receipt of his resignation by the president.

The discovery of a New Bedford newspaper of recent date with the portions of the limbs is regarded as the most important clue thus far obtained, indicating possibly the place of the murder. It is murder there was.

BANK ROBBER KILLS HIMSELF

LONE MAN LOOTS CONCERN AT HIGHLAND PARK.

Shoots Marshal When Auto Fails to Aid Escape—Bandit Once a Lawyer.

Chicago.—Trusting unavailingly to an automobile for escape, a young man known in many circles under the assumed name of L. Harrison—but almost positively named in Los Angeles, Cal., as Lamar H. Harris, a fugitive lawyer of that city—robbed a bank in Highland Park Wednesday afternoon and then ended a losing revolver battle by taking his own disfigured life.

In the duel between desperado and pursuer, Marshal John H. Sheehan was wounded. The bullet struck his star over his heart and glanced into his arm.

The bank was the private establishment of David M. Erskine & Co.; the price of the local endeavor was $600. The tragedy was enacted in 15 minutes.

A borrowed chauffeur, Fred J. Schwan, employed by J. E. Keely of Evanston, owner of the borrowed automobile, neither of them with knowledge of the purpose or character of the borrower—were figures in the progress of the drama.

Koslyn, who met the supposed Harrison at the Avenue house, Evanston, for the first time on Tuesday night, rented him the machine. Schwab drove.

So little did the chauffeur suspect the nature of his customer's quest that when, after an inspection of three north shore banks, any one of which might have been robbed, the machine was stopped in front of the Highland Park bank at three o'clock, he let the engine stop as well.

When the bandit ran from the bank and jumped into the auto, it did not start. Schwab cranked and cranked, but the cold had stiffened the engine.

His actions and the appearance of the dead robber both led to the conclusion that he was a stranded and desperate amateur, a "high roller," and exposed to a crime as the last resort.

In Los Angeles his description and his garments alike caused the police to assert that he was Harris, who was a member of a prominent family in that city. A month ago he forged several checks in Los Angeles and other southern California cities and disappeared.

STORM CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE

Worst Storm in Years Rages at Leech Lake, Minn.; Lives May Be Lost.

Walker, Minn.—One of the worst storms in recent years is blowing over this section and Leech Lake is being lashed by a gale. The waves are running high, and fears are entertained for the 35-foot launch, Sarah L., which started out from here into the big lake two days before the storm struck.

Among those on board were several ladies. Nothing has been heard from the launch, but it is hoped that the crew found shelter in some of the bays.

The waves have done much damage to numerous boat houses. The government dock is a total loss. A cement retaining wall 100 feet long has been demolished and many launches and the steamer Flora are on the bottom.

The Leech Lake Lumber Company has lost a large lot of logs, a barge and a pile driver. The damage caused by the storm will amount to thousands of dollars.

DETROIT WINS FOURTH GAME

World Championship Series Now Stands Even—Tigers Outclassed Their Rivals.

Detroit.—Detroit defeated Pittsburgh 5 to 0, Tuesday and evened up the count in the world's championship series, each now having two victories to its credit. The game was played with the mercury at 34 degrees above zero, but 17,000 persons braved the chilling temperature.

The American league champions outclassed their rivals in every department of the game and the pitching of George Mullin will make one of the brightest bits in the baseball history of Detroit. It is hard to conceive of any pitcher having his opponents more at his mercy than Mullin had Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pittsburgh took the lead in the great battle now being waged for the world's baseball championship by defeating Detroit, 8 to 4, in the fifth game of the big series, at Forbes field. This gives the National league champions three victories to two for the winners of the American league pennant.

Charles Adams, the phenomenal youngster of Pittsburgh, won his second game of the series by clearly out-pitching Summers.

REVOLUTIONIST IS SHOT

FACES FIRING SQUAD WITHOUT EMOTION.

Prof. Ferrer Is Deeply Touched by Attempt of Daughter to Save His Life.

Harcourt, N. Y.—Prof. Francisco Ferrer, the Spanish educator, and convicted revolutionist, was shot at the fortress of Montjuich where the prisoner had been confined since his condemnation by court-martial. The doomed man faced the firing squad without flinching, and fell dead at the first volley.

Ferrer, except for a momentary expression of emotion immediately preceding his death, remained his composure to the last. His attorney, M. Galceran, who had defended the prisoner so loyally as to bring about his own arrest for improperly addressing the court, had secured permission for a brief talk with the revolutionist before the latter was led to the ditch where he was to die. To his attorney Ferrer spoke feelingly of the work for which he was sacrificing his life and of the future of his daughter, whose brave attempt to save his life touched the father more deeply, apparently, than any other incident of his trial and conviction.

With the execution of Francisco Ferrer the authorities have removed from the affairs of Spain one long suspected of revolutionary activities, and who, because of his education and influence, was deemed of peculiar danger to the state.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Ten thousand men, headed by M. Jaurès, the leader of the Socialists in the chamber of deputies, and M. Vaillant, a Socialist deputy, last night marched to the Spanish embassy, where it was the intention to hold a demonstration in protest against the execution of Ferrer. The police surrounded the building, however, and repulsed the surging crowds after a sharp scuffle. The procession then returned through the main boulevards with shouts of "Down with Alfonsos! Down with Maura!"

M. Leprie, the prefect of police, soon arrived at the head of reinforcements and was received with a volley of shots from the crowd. The cavalry charged, using their sabres freely and storming the barriers. The police arrested a dangerous Spanish anarchist, Eusebio Dolanero, who admits having fired at M. Leprie.

Rome, Oct. 14.—The execution of Francisco Ferrer at Harcourt has caused a profound impression here, and there was a serious demonstration of protest against the action of the Spanish government.

SIXTH TO DETROIT

FIGERS EVEN UP CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT BY DEFEATING THE PIRATES.

MULLEN AGAIN A WINNER

Game Was Fiercely Contested—Three American League Players Were Injured—Deciding Contest to Be Played Saturday.

Detroit, Mich.—Detroit kept in the front light for the world's baseball championship fight Thursday by defeating Pittsburgh 5 to 1 in a battle of sensational and thrilling situations and the two teams are tied with three victories each. The seventh and deciding game will be played here Saturday.

A tearful and a rally in the ninth inning by Pittsburgh was stopped after one run was scored but three Detroit players were injured in stunning the rush of Pittsburgh runs to the plate. Tom Jones, the Detroit first baseman, was the most seriously hurt. His neck and spine were injured in a collision with Wilson at first base and this resulted in Pittsburgh scoring its run of that session.

The Pittsburgh team got away in the lead by smashing out three runs on four successive hits off Mullin in the first inning. After that the great Mullin was invincible until the ninth when he weakened enough to get into a dangerous situation, only to attribute himself by another marvelous exhibition of pitching.

Detroit put up another of its wonderful games. They scored one run in the first inning and batted Al Williams off the slab by scoring two runs in the fourth and one more in the fifth by terrible hitting. Camnitz succeeded in getting Mullin out in the sixth inning. Camnitz batted him hard enough to get another run in the sixth inning. Camnitz was withdrawn when Hyatt batted for him in the seventh and the veteran Phillips stepped the Detroit scoring.

The ninth inning rally of Pittsburgh, treated with tense moments and dramatic incidents. At one time a hit meant the probable winning of the world's championship by Pittsburgh as a single would have tied the score and a two larger perhaps have put Pittsburgh in the lead.

Pittsburgh went to bat with the score 5 to 1 against it in the last inning. Mullin started with a single in first and Abstein put another in the same place, sending Mullin to second. Wilson placed a bunt in front of the plate and Schmidt fielded it to first but the collision with Wilson caused Jones to lose the ball. Miller scored and Abstein moving to third. The delay occasioned by Tom Jones' injury gave Mullin a hard-earned opportunity to recover his balance. Gibson grounded to Crawford, who had succeeded T. Jones at the first base and the star fielder made a great stop and threw to the plate. Abstein was out when Schmidt blocked him off the plate and tagged him, but the Detroit catcher was badly spoiled.

Manager Charles Scott Abbattecho in to bat for T. Jones. With Wilson on second and Gibson on first a hit by Abbattecho meant a score at least. Here is where Mullin arose to the occasion and made himself another notch in the Detroit baseball hall of fame. He performed a feat that nearly equaled his great performance of striking out Clarke and Wagner in Tuesday's game. Abbattecho was a stubborn batter and it required nearly everything Mullin had to strike him out. On the third strike Wilson tried to steal third but was caught. Schmidt to Moriarty, ending the game with a victory for Detroit.

Chicago.—Pittsburgh 3, Detroit 5. Detroit 1, 0, 0, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0, 5, 10, 1. Batteries: Detroit, Mullin and Schmidt; Pittsburgh, Williams, Camnitz, Phillips, Gibson.

Sitting Bull had 5,000 fighting men with him when he met the Seventh cavalry under the "Yellow-haired Chief," who rode into the valley of death with less than three hundred following troopers. It is the custom of the whites to speak of every battle with the reds in which the pale face loss was severe as a massacre. The Custer affair was a massacre, but it was one of the few fights in which the whites were defeated which rightly could be so called.

Red Cloud's conduct is suggestive of the warrior, and to the score that are gone he made its significance terrific. With his braves he swept the settlements and gave battle to the soldiery, rarely giving heed to the odds that might be against him.

Red Cloud was a Sioux of the pure blood. There were always men of the tribe who said that Sitting Bull had a trace of white in him, and so the full-blood this was the equivalent of discrediting him with a "streak of yellow." But this quality the Indian way of looking

Warning Is Spurred. Red Cloud, the chief, had ordered the warrior to display what was at once a defiance and a menace, and later he took the terrible vengeance because his warning had been spurned.

Col. Fetterman rode back to his command, knowing well what the signal of the plumed spear meant. The soldier, fully determined to die with his men, throwing out threats, he pushed forward with his men, throwing out threats to feel his way. The Indian sentinel had vanished, but he had left his spear with its pennant of cloth to stand as a forbidding sign. Not another Sioux was

That Fetterman and his men excitedly knew that their lives goes without saying, but how many of the savage followers of Red Cloud fell on that day no man ever knew. Will man ever know unless the chief in that hour of his detrage may one day babble the tale.

To the memory of Fetterman a fort bearing his name rose in the wilderness, but even the remembrance of the memorial is now passing away. News of the killing of the troops that had gone to the aid of their fellows only made him way through the hostile country with peril made by every hoof stroke on the path. He eluded Red Cloud only by matching cunning against cunning, and the white craft won over the red.

Relief reached the post but at this time the whole Sioux nation had been called to war and the northwest was again, nor did the fires of conflict kindled by Red Cloud die out for more than a score of years, the last flicker of the flame lighting the battle field of "The Mission," near Pine Ridge, S. "To-night I saw a suffragette acquaintance just back from the seaside camp," writes the London correspondent of the Bristol Daily Mercury. "She had had a successful time apparently, especially in Scotland. But she informed me that at one meeting—at Grantown, in the Highlands—an argument was advanced to which she was unable to answer. Speeches had been made to a large crowd, amid a making and mending. Then, all were told to sit down. The men, however, refused to do so, and the women, in their turn, refused to sit down. The result was a very noisy and somewhat chaotic scene."

Last Sunday morning Inspector tactical officer told "Babe" must shave and the boy took a holy berry. There was no soap that day, for with the razor he cut himself "Babe" from childhood.

"Babe" as cadet at the academy gave so much trouble because his grievances against him must have been imaginary. Louisiana boy was in demerit, the good nature to challenge was challenged to a Clarke was outweighed him. The boy refused to let his classmates take the burden on himself and he fought the cadet and thrashed him beat-

"This old fellow was suspected of tampering with the church collections. A couple of clumsy traps that were set for him failed to work. Then one day a young deacon called and paid his house-rending a new horse."

"That's the horse, deacon," the old fellow shouted. "Did you buy him at the fair?"

"Yes," said the deacon. Then, as the other came nearer, he added:

"I bought him with my pickings out of the collection plate."

"The old man looked horrified."

"Good gracious!" he said. "I've often taken enough myself to buy a hat or a pair of trousers; but, deacon, in takin' enough to buy a horse isn't ya

Poverty and Consumption.
That poverty is a friend to consumption is demonstrated by some recent German statistics, which show that of 10,000 well-to-do persons 40 annually die of consumption; of the same number only moderately well-to-do, 66; of the same number really poor, 77; and of the same number paupers, 97. According to John Burn, the famous English labor leader, 90 per cent. of the consumption in London receive charitable relief in their homes.

Bemis-Ruckle.
Scotch and Memphis Daily News:—Monday, October 11, at twelve o'clock, noon, the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bemis was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their daughter Olive Allen was united in marriage to Dr. William Melvin Ruckle of Grand Rapids.

The ceremony was performed in the bay window in the east parlor in a tower of palms and yellow chrysanthemums. Rev. Henry Stauffer of the Congregational church spoke the solemn and beautiful service. Kloddy's Harp Orchestra played the wedding march from Lohengrin and played selections during the afternoon. The young couple was unattended. The bride was gown in a traveling suit of navy blue.

Following the ceremony and congratulations a wedding breakfast in four courses was served by Caterers Harth. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in decorations and service. Dr. and Mrs. Ruckle left on the 12:55 train for Illinois points on their wedding trip. The young people received many beautiful gifts.

The congratulations and good wishes expressed to Dr. and Mrs. Ruckle were heartfelt and sincere. The new relationship entered into so joyously will be a happy and useful one. Mrs. Ruckle is a young woman of character, sweet and gracious in her personality and loyal and true in her affections. She possesses the womanly graces that will make her a home maker in the truest sense. Dr. Ruckle is a successful and conscientious physician in Grand Rapids. He is a man of high character and rigid purpose and is fitted to make the woman of his choice happy. The new home so auspiciously started will be a delightful place of peace and understanding.

The wedding was attended by relatives and most intimate friends only, to the number of thirty. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bemis, Mrs. Gertrude Bemis, Sholevgen; Mr. and Mrs. Orla Prowbridge, Sholevgen Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Hanson, Waupaca; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Vaughan, Miss Iona Vaughan, Frank Vaughan, Green Bay; Dr. and Mrs. Humbert, Appleton; P. G. Gilkey, Grand Rapids.

Laying Out New Line.
Oxford, Wis., Oct. 19.—A party of civil engineers of the Chicago and North Western railway are laying out a line from Oxford to the Wisconsin river, by way of Janesville, evidently heading for a point northwest of White Creek in Adams county, in the direction of Neeshah. Two large camps of engineers are situated along the path of the survey.

The new office that is being erected for Drumb & Sator on First avenue south, is rapidly nearing completion and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy in about two weeks. Work on the structure has been delayed somewhat by unfavorable weather, but taken altogether the progress has been quite satisfactory. The brick in the building are of concrete manufactured by the Carey Concrete company, and will make a very good looking building when completed.

Word comes from Africa to the effect that former President Roosevelt had a narrow escape from being killed by a mad elephant a few days ago. This might have caused considerable furor a couple of months ago and would probably have taken up the whole front page of the daily papers, but since Cook and Perry discovered the north pole we do not pay much attention to such small game as elephants.

B. L. Brown, who has been in the west during the past summer, returned home last week in company with Mrs. Brown, who had been spending the past month with him at Dawson, N. D. Mr. Brown has been out as far as the coast and has been looking over that country with a view to locating, but has about decided that there is no reason for a poor man to leave Wisconsin and locate in any of the western states with a view to bettering himself, for it is his opinion that he will not do it. Mr. Brown states that the real estate men are making money and that they are all doing their best to pull together and boom the country, and that they are succeeding to two extent that whenever a victim from the east arrives with money they generally manage to sell him some land. Then the eastern fellow finds that he is up against it and the only way he can make good is to become a booster and sell his recently acquired land to some fellow that arrived after he did, and thus play even. He is also of the opinion that the talk about people being able to make a living on five acres of land is mostly hot air. He says that he doubts some people have been able to live off from small tracts of land, but the same people living in the same manner could make a living off of the same amount of land in Wisconsin. Mr. Brown is not disappointed with his trip, having seen a large section of the country and satisfied himself that he has no particular reason for feeling dissatisfied with the east.

ALTDORF
If any one still thinks that we can't raise corn up here he ought to go and see the Wisconsin No. 8, that O. J. Lea raised this year. It yielded about 150 bushels of ears to the acre and as fine a corn as we ever saw exhibited at any state fair. We believe if it could have had a little more rain it would have yielded nearly 100 bushels of shelled corn to the acre.

A. Huser is clearing and breaking up some of the swamp land that was drained two years ago. All around here are anxious to see how this kind of land will produce under cultivation as there is a great deal of that kind of land west and south of here.

THE KITCHEN FLOOR.

One of the largest and best known paint manufacturers in the country makes the candid statement that no paint, nor varnish, nor floor finish of any kind is made, nor can be made, that will withstand the constant wear and frequent scrubbing to which the average kitchen floor is subjected. If further argument against painting the kitchen floor is needed it may be found in the lack of neatness, the unsightliness and the cost of frequent repainting. What, then, shall take the place of paint or varnish? The answer is linoleum, of which even the cheaper or printed grades will give far more all around satisfaction and longer service at much less cost than painting, and if the better grades are used the difference will be found much greater in favor of linoleum. The bright cheerfulness of the linoleum covered floor, the ease with which it is kept clean, the fact that it is of all floor coverings the most sanitary are additional reasons in favor of linoleum. The best make of linoleums in all grades and in great variety or designs are shown at Johnson & Hill Co.'s at prices that you will find as satisfactory as the goods.

THE KITCHEN FLOOR. One of the largest and best known paint manufacturers in the country makes the candid statement that no paint, nor varnish nor floor finish of any kind is made, nor can be made, that will withstand the constant wear and frequent scrubblings to which the average kitchen floor is subjected. If further argument against painting the kitchen floor is needed it may be found in the lack of neatness, the unsightliness and the cost of frequent repainting. What, then, shall take the place of paint or varnish? The answer is linoleum, of which even the cheaper or printed grades will give far more around satisfaction and longer service at much less cost than painting, and if the better grades are used the difference will be found much greater in favor of linoleum. The bright cheerfulness of the linoleum covered floor, the ease with which it is kept clean, the fact that it is of all floor coverings the most sanitary are additional reasons in favor of linoleum. The best make of linoleums in all grades and in great variety of designs are shown at Johnson & Hill Co.'s at prices that you will find as satisfactory as the goods.

The Consolidated people have the roof on their new office building and the carpenters are engaged in finishing the interior. There is still a lot of work to do on the structure, but when it is completed it will compare favorably with anything of the kind to be found in this part of the country.
